Michael Husband

I respectfully submit myself for consideration in the Exmouth local elections.

Since moving to Exmouth and running my own business here for nearly 10 years I, like so many others have come to call this town home.

My wife Tiff and I are both active owner operators in the local tourism and aviation industries and are passionate about the future of Exmouth.

I have been involved with local government as a member of the Strategic Community Reference Group in the transition period between councils and have sat as the Chair of the Visitors Center twice.

Exmouth is a diverse community with sometimes polar opposite views on topics of development, conservation and what the future of this town should look like.

For me that fact in itself is unique and is why I would like to play some part in working toward that future as a Councillor.
